

OFFER $6,000 TO
SILENCE TILLMANFailing in Bribe, Negroes
May Seek an Injunction.

FIRST BLOOD IS SHED

White Man Dying and Negro
Wounded in Quarrel.

Black Shoots When Senator's Remarks Are Repeated—Woman Chairman of Committee Denies the African, and Says She and a Petticoat Friend Will Act as a Bodyguard for the South Carolinian.

Chicago, Nov. 26.—Threats of legal proceedings to prevent Senator Tillman from speaking to-morrow evening at Orchestra Hall and promises of $6,000 indemnity to the promoters if they would call off the lecture were made by a delegation of negroes in an interview with Mrs. J. Keeler, financial agent of the Chicago Union Hospital, in her office to-day.

Before the interview began Mrs. Keeler said she regarded the men who had made the appointment as intellectual members of their race, and stoutly declared that while they might intimidate Mayor Dunne, they could not intimidate her, as she "is a daughter of a soldier who fought to free the slaves."

In fact, she proposes to meet Senator Tillman on his arrival to-morrow to act as his "bodyguard," with the assistance of a woman member of the hospital board.

Rev. A. J. Carey, colored, began the interview. He said there was an unusual amount of race antagonism in Chicago at present, following the recent election. He said that one man in the hospital as a result of fights growing out of the disturbed state of feeling, and that a lecture by Senator Tillman would only inflame that feeling.

Woman Defies Negroes.
"Senator Tillman will speak," Mrs. Keeler replied, resolutely, emphasizing the "will."

Dr. Carey shook his head slowly, and said one word, "Maybe."

"What do you mean? Only death will prevent him," replied Mrs. Keeler.

Dr. Charles E. Bentley took up the lines.

"There are legal ways, Mrs. Keeler," he said.

"Dr. Bentley, I expect you to stand by me in giving this lecture for charity," said Mrs. Keeler, with feeling. Dr. Bentley had made the appointment for the interview.

"There will be violence," replied the negro.

"The best thing the colored people can do is to attend the lecture and behave," said Mrs. Keeler. "That will make the best impression possible for the race. I will not be intimidated by this committee or any one else."

"We cannot be responsible for certain elements of the negro population in Chicago," Carey said. "We fear bloodshed and riot."

"Mayor Dunne has refused to preside."

"I don't care whether Mayor Dunne presides or not," declared Mrs. Keeler. "He is on the fence all the time, anyway."

"Tillman is a bully and a ruffian. He is responsible for more than half the outbreaks against the negroes," Bentley declared. "He is ostracized by the whites in the South and the blacks in the North."

"We understand legal ways can be found to prevent this firebrand from speaking," Bentley said. "He can be enjoined on the ground that his words will incite riot. We called on the mayor earlier. He informed us that he could not prevent Tillman from speaking, but indicated that an injunction could be obtained against him."

The committee announced that it will endeavor to have the Senator enjoined from speaking in Chicago. Dr. Carey said:

"Mayor Dunne said there was no way by which he could keep Tillman from talking—that is, no way as mayor."

"Why, if Roosevelt himself, after he retires from the Presidency, was announced for a lecture, you would try to stop him," said Mrs. Keeler, to the negro committee.

"No, he's made only one recent mistake. There are only three public speakers whom we will stop," replied Dr. Carey. "They are Vardaman, the governor of Mississippi, John Temple Graves, and Tillman. They represent the opposition to the advancement of our race. They are the men who would strip the colored man of all intellectual qualities and make him a brute."

Offer $6,000 for Cancellation.
The example of the Cleveland woman was cited to Mrs. Keeler by Dr. Carey.

"The women there had engaged Tillman for a charity lecture, but when they saw it created feeling, they cancelled the date," said the spokesman. "Can't Chicago women do as much?"

The colored people, Mr. Taylor said, were ready to raise $100, which they understood to be Senator Tillman's charge. Mrs. Keeler said the hospital expected to take in from $3,000 to $4,000.

Finally the negroes offered Mrs. Keeler $6,000 for the hospital if she would have Senator Tillman's date cancelled.

"They did not talk further about legal proceedings, not wishing to show their hand," said Mrs. Keeler, after the committee had gone. "But they offered the $6,000. Of course I turned it down. That lecture will be given. I expect the house to be full, too."

As soon as the negroes had left her office Mrs. Keeler called up Attorney Miles S. Macon, who had consented to preside at the Tillman meeting. "There is no legal action whereby they can prevent Senator Tillman from lecturing," Mr. Macon told her.

Bloodshed Over Quarrel.
First blood has been shed as a result of the bitter dispute over the coming lecture.

Arthur Kehoe, a white man, is near death in the county hospital, and John Fleming, a negro, is under arrest, charged with shooting Kehoe in a battle which was started by a dispute over Tillman.

Malcolm Bradus, a negro, who also took part in the dispute, was arrested and taken to the county hospital.

Continued on third page.

Wide Boards, $2 Per 100 ft.
Lumber Trust Broken.
Libbey & Co., 6th st. and N. Y. ave.

WEATHER FORECAST.

For the District of Columbia, fair to-day. To-morrow fair, colder; fresh west to northwest winds.

HERALD NEWS SUMMARY.

TELEGRAPHIC.

Page.
1—John Carroll Seeks $6 a Week Job.
1—Man Swept Over Niagara Falls.
1—Physicians Testify Against Gillette.
1—Shaw Charges Graft in Pittsburg Site Case.

1—Negroes Offer $6,000 to Silence Tillman.
3—Caruso Filed Appeal.
4—Murderer Grand Jury Denounces Jail Conditions.
5—Gays Celebrate Golden Wedding.

LOCAL.

1—President Roosevelt Returns.
2—Tariff Revision Doomed.
2—Taft Decides Niagara Falls May Be Utilized.
2—Testimony Taken in Bassett Divorce Case.

3—Phi Delta Theta Delegates Busy.
7—Catholics to Continue Southern Missions.
12—Sanitary Housing Company Needs Funds.
12—Court Holds Transfers Are Limited.

CUBAN REBELS IN CUSTODY.

Band Headed by ex-Police Chief Captured by Rurales.

The band of revolutionists from Cienfuegos, headed by former Chief of Police Rius, of that town, has been captured and disarmed by a detachment of rural guards. The prisoners, eight in number, have been taken back to Cienfuegos. The following report of the affair came to the War Department yesterday from Gov. Maagoo:

"Band from Cienfuegos overhauled by detachment of rural guards under command of Capt. Landa; taken into custody and disarmed with difficulty, and are now being brought to Cienfuegos."

"Band was composed of eight men."

SWEPT OVER FALLS

Boat With Unknown Man
Plunges Down.

RESCUERS' EFFORTS IN VAIN

Alarm Given and Men Put Off in Skiffs, but Fall-Doomed Man Collapses When He Sees Other Craft
Return to Shore—Many People
Witness the Tragedy.

Buffalo, Nov. 26.—A man was swept over the Horseshoe Falls to-day in a small boat, despite desperate efforts made to rescue him. An employee of the Ontario Power Company said what looked like a log coming down the river. He watched the object for a few minutes, and presently was horrified to see a man stand up and wave his arms at him.

The watcher ran to the village of Chippewa to give the alarm. He met Detective Greenwood and Louis B. Duff, and the three jumped into a skiff and pulled down the Chippewa River, followed quickly by another boat.

When the first boat turned into Niagara River the doomed man was some distance ahead. He was still standing in his boat and seemingly was crying aloud. The rescuers bent to their oars, but soon saw that there was no chance of saving the man. His boat was in the grasp of the powerful current and was being swept to the head of Goat Island.

There were many people at Terrapin Point, on the American side, and on Table Rock, on the Canadian side, who saw the man go over the falls. They saw no oars in the boat as it poised for a brief instant before the plunge. The man was dressed like a hunter, and it is supposed he was shooting ducks out into the river, and in some manner lost his oars and thus could not escape the current, which carried him steadily to an awful death.

There were five men gave up their chase, and by hard work extricated themselves from the current and landed on the shore. When the man saw him give up he collapsed and sank down in his boat. The head of Goat Island out into the river, and the Canadian channel and plunged over the Horseshoe Falls.

There were many people at Terrapin Point, on the American side, and on Table Rock, on the Canadian side, who saw the man go over the falls. They saw no oars in the boat as it poised for a brief instant before the plunge. The man was dressed like a hunter, and it is supposed he was shooting ducks out into the river, and in some manner lost his oars and thus could not escape the current, which carried him steadily to an awful death.

There were five men gave up their chase, and by hard work extricated themselves from the current and landed on the shore. When the man saw him give up he collapsed and sank down in his boat. The head of Goat Island out into the river, and the Canadian channel and plunged over the Horseshoe Falls.

There were many people at Terrapin Point, on the American side, and on Table Rock, on the Canadian side, who saw the man go over the falls. They saw no oars in the boat as it poised for a brief instant before the plunge. The man was dressed like a hunter, and it is supposed he was shooting ducks out into the river, and in some manner lost his oars and thus could not escape the current, which carried him steadily to an awful death.

There were five men gave up their chase, and by hard work extricated themselves from the current and landed on the shore. When the man saw him give up he collapsed and sank down in his boat. The head of Goat Island out into the river, and the Canadian channel and plunged over the Horseshoe Falls.

There were many people at Terrapin Point, on the American side, and on Table Rock, on the Canadian side, who saw the man go over the falls. They saw no oars in the boat as it poised for a brief instant before the plunge. The man was dressed like a hunter, and it is supposed he was shooting ducks out into the river, and in some manner lost his oars and thus could not escape the current, which carried him steadily to an awful death.

There were five men gave up their chase, and by hard work extricated themselves from the current and landed on the shore. When the man saw him give up he collapsed and sank down in his boat. The head of Goat Island out into the river, and the Canadian channel and plunged over the Horseshoe Falls.

There were many people at Terrapin Point, on the American side, and on Table Rock, on the Canadian side, who saw the man go over the falls. They saw no oars in the boat as it poised for a brief instant before the plunge. The man was dressed like a hunter, and it is supposed he was shooting ducks out into the river, and in some manner lost his oars and thus could not escape the current, which carried him steadily to an awful death.

There were five men gave up their chase, and by hard work extricated themselves from the current and landed on the shore. When the man saw him give up he collapsed and sank down in his boat. The head of Goat Island out into the river, and the Canadian channel and plunged over the Horseshoe Falls.

There were many people at Terrapin Point, on the American side, and on Table Rock, on the Canadian side, who saw the man go over the falls. They saw no oars in the boat as it poised for a brief instant before the plunge. The man was dressed like a hunter, and it is supposed he was shooting ducks out into the river, and in some manner lost his oars and thus could not escape the current, which carried him steadily to an awful death.

There were five men gave up their chase, and by hard work extricated themselves from the current and landed on the shore. When the man saw him give up he collapsed and sank down in his boat. The head of Goat Island out into the river, and the Canadian channel and plunged over the Horseshoe Falls.

There were many people at Terrapin Point, on the American side, and on Table Rock, on the Canadian side, who saw the man go over the falls. They saw no oars in the boat as it poised for a brief instant before the plunge. The man was dressed like a hunter, and it is supposed he was shooting ducks out into the river, and in some manner lost his oars and thus could not escape the current, which carried him steadily to an awful death.

There were five men gave up their chase, and by hard work extricated themselves from the current and landed on the shore. When the man saw him give up he collapsed and sank down in his boat. The head of Goat Island out into the river, and the Canadian channel and plunged over the Horseshoe Falls.

There were many people at Terrapin Point, on the American side, and on Table Rock, on the Canadian side, who saw the man go over the falls. They saw no oars in the boat as it poised for a brief instant before the plunge. The man was dressed like a hunter, and it is supposed he was shooting ducks out into the river, and in some manner lost his oars and thus could not escape the current, which carried him steadily to an awful death.

There were five men gave up their chase, and by hard work extricated themselves from the current and landed on the shore. When the man saw him give up he collapsed and sank down in his boat. The head of Goat Island out into the river, and the Canadian channel and plunged over the Horseshoe Falls.

There were many people at Terrapin Point, on the American side, and on Table Rock, on the Canadian side, who saw the man go over the falls. They saw no oars in the boat as it poised for a brief instant before the plunge. The man was dressed like a hunter, and it is supposed he was shooting ducks out into the river, and in some manner lost his oars and thus could not escape the current, which carried him steadily to an awful death.

There were five men gave up their chase, and by hard work extricated themselves from the current and landed on the shore. When the man saw him give up he collapsed and sank down in his boat. The head of Goat Island out into the river, and the Canadian channel and plunged over the Horseshoe Falls.

There were many people at Terrapin Point, on the American side, and on Table Rock, on the Canadian side, who saw the man go over the falls. They saw no oars in the boat as it poised for a brief instant before the plunge. The man was dressed like a hunter, and it is supposed he was shooting ducks out into the river, and in some manner lost his oars and thus could not escape the current, which carried him steadily to an awful death.

There were five men gave up their chase, and by hard work extricated themselves from the current and landed on the shore. When the man saw him give up he collapsed and sank down in his boat. The head of Goat Island out into the river, and the Canadian channel and plunged over the Horseshoe Falls.

There were many people at Terrapin Point, on the American side, and on Table Rock, on the Canadian side, who saw the man go over the falls. They saw no oars in the boat as it poised for a brief instant before the plunge. The man was dressed like a hunter, and it is supposed he was shooting ducks out into the river, and in some manner lost his oars and thus could not escape the current, which carried him steadily to an awful death.

There were five men gave up their chase, and by hard work extricated themselves from the current and landed on the shore. When the man saw him give up he collapsed and sank down in his boat. The head of Goat Island out into the river, and the Canadian channel and plunged over the Horseshoe Falls.

There were many people at Terrapin Point, on the American side, and on Table Rock, on the Canadian side, who saw the man go over the falls. They saw no oars in the boat as it poised for a brief instant before the plunge. The man was dressed like a hunter, and it is supposed he was shooting ducks out into the river, and in some manner lost his oars and thus could not escape the current, which carried him steadily to an awful death.

There were five men gave up their chase, and by hard work extricated themselves from the current and landed on the shore. When the man saw him give up he collapsed and sank down in his boat. The head of Goat Island out into the river, and the Canadian channel and plunged over the Horseshoe Falls.

There were many people at Terrapin Point, on the American side, and on Table Rock, on the Canadian side, who saw the man go over the falls. They saw no oars in the boat as it poised for a brief instant before the plunge. The man was dressed like a hunter, and it is supposed he was shooting ducks out into the river, and in some manner lost his oars and thus could not escape the current, which carried him steadily to an awful death.

There were five men gave up their chase, and by hard work extricated themselves from the current and landed on the shore. When the man saw him give up he collapsed and sank down in his boat. The head of Goat Island out into the river, and the Canadian channel and plunged over the Horseshoe Falls.

There were many people at Terrapin Point, on the American side, and on Table Rock, on the Canadian side, who saw the man go over the falls. They saw no oars in the boat as it poised for a brief instant before the plunge. The man was dressed like a hunter, and it is supposed he was shooting ducks out into the river, and in some manner lost his oars and thus could not escape the current, which carried him steadily to an awful death.

There were five men gave up their chase, and by hard work extricated themselves from the current and landed on the shore. When the man saw him give up he collapsed and sank down in his boat. The head of Goat Island out into the river, and the Canadian channel and plunged over the Horseshoe Falls.

There were many people at Terrapin Point, on the American side, and on Table Rock, on the Canadian side, who saw the man go over the falls. They saw no oars in the boat as it poised for a brief instant before the plunge. The man was dressed like a hunter, and it is supposed he was shooting ducks out into the river, and in some manner lost his oars and thus could not escape the current, which carried him steadily to an awful death.

ONCE ARISTOCRAT;
NOW SEEKS $6 JOBJohn Carroll, of Maryland
Family, Would Be Bailiff.

SQUANDERED A FORTUNE

Owned Hundreds of Slaves and Spent Thousands for Wine.

Seion of One of the Proudest Gen-tries of Colonial and Ante-bellum
Days Asks for Menial Court Position in the County Where His Ancestors Once Ruled Without a Rival—May Be Turned Down.

Special to The Washington Herald.
Baltimore, Nov. 26.—Once a member of the most aristocratic society and a member of the exclusive set, John Carroll, of the Caves, to-day applied for the position of bailiff in the Orphans' Court here, a position that pays $6 a week. His petition may not be granted.

Carroll is a lineal descendant of the colonial landowner and barrister, John Carroll, of the Caves, who was contemporaneous and related to John Carroll, of Carrollton, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

These two Carroll families were the most prominent in Maryland in colonial days. John Carroll of the Caves held the original patent for 1,817 acres in Worthington Valley, the fashionable section of Baltimore County. This tract had been in the Carroll family for more than two hundred years, when it was inherited by the present John Carroll.

Once a Big Slave Owner.
The man who is now seeking a livelihood of the meanest order, at one time had hundreds of slaves at his beck and call, and thousands of dollars were spent annually for wine which was served at banquets notorious along the entire Atlantic Coast. Here he lived the life of a country gentleman, but his lack of business responsibilities soon depleted his fortune.

Later there came a quarrel with his wife, and a divorce suit was fought through the courts for five years. At this time it is said he turned an oil painting of his wife against the wall.

Following the divorce suit came other misfortunes, and the final old estate, with its colonial mansion, was foreclosed to settle the mortgage. A contest in the courts lasting nineteen months drove him from his home. The estate was divided and sold as suburban real estate.

Lived in a Hut.
Carroll, homeless and bankrupt, made his home at a small road-side cabin. After eking out a living as best he could for years he has now asked an office of minor importance in the county where his ancestors once ruled with a rival.

Mrs. Carroll is a sister of Mrs. Douglas Thomas, wife of the president of the Merchants National Bank of Baltimore.

The original John Carroll was the founder of the present Georgetown College in Washington. His magnificent banquet table of rosewood, and his silver dinner service are still the property of the college. The name of John Carroll figures in many of the college songs of the students.

May Call Platt as Witness
Prosecution in Mutual Reserve Trial
Asks Significant Questions.

Lou Payn and Edward Lauterbach
Also Figure Mysteriously in the Life Insurance Case.

New York, Nov. 26.—Senator Thomas C. Platt, Lou Payn, ex-State superintendent of insurance, and Edward Lauterbach may be called as witnesses in the trial of George Burnham, Jr., who was counsel for the Mutual Reserve Life Insurance Company, which began to-day before Justice Greenbaum, in the Supreme Court, criminal branch.

There are five indictments against Burnham for larceny and forgery, but to-day was the first time that the names of Senator Platt and Messrs. Payn and Lauterbach were brought into this proceeding. Every taleman examined by Assistant District Attorney Nott, who is in charge of the prosecution, was asked if he knew these men.

No one in the district attorney's office would explain the significance of this, but it was said that they might be called as witnesses, and their testimony might be of great importance, but it all depended on the kind of a swing the trial took. It was said that whatever connection these men had with the case came out since the district attorney's office took up the investigation of the charge against Burnham.

When to-day's session was adjourned, after eight jurors had been obtained, Assistant District Attorney Nott moved that Burnham be committed to the Tombs. This was vigorously opposed by William Rand, Jr., counsel for the Mutual Reserve declared that they would guarantee the appearance of Burnham during the trial. That was satisfactory to Justice Greenbaum, who let Burnham go home.

No Action in Car Strike.
American Consul at Hamilton Has Not Been Asked to Intercede.

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 26.—The refusal of Fred Fay, the American leader of the street car employes on strike at Hamilton, Ont., to leave Hamilton, and his appeal to the United States consul there, is to-night being watched with intense interest by thousands of workmen on both sides of the line. Developments are keenly awaited.

Troops mounted, and others on foot with drawn bayonets, are guarding the streets, and trouble is feared. A large number came up for trial to-day, charged with resisting the police and not clearing the streets after the riot act was read, but were remanded until to-morrow.

To-day a big stick of dynamite was found on the car track on James street, and a car was only stopped within a few feet of it.

At the government office here to-night the statement is made that no communication, either from Washington or the United States consul at Hamilton, has reached here yet.

EAR TURNED TOWARD DIXIE.

W. J. B.: "A 'good Southern man' for President? Certainly. Name, please."

GRAFT, SAYS SHAW PHYSICIANS ON STAND

Tells Pittsburgers to "Get Down to Business."

ROW OVER POST-OFFICE SITE

In Stormy Meeting Citizens Hurl Debate at One Another and at Secretary of the Treasury Over Proposed Location of the Building.
No Decision Is Yet Reached.

Pittsburg, Nov. 26.—Secretary of the United States Treasury Leslie M. Shaw came to Pittsburg to-day to look over some post-office sites, and spent a rather lively time warring with some of the leading business men of Pittsburg.

About ten days ago Mr. Shaw had decided to condemn a site near the Union Depot here, but was dissuaded from taking final action by a storm of protests from Pittsburg, headed by Congressman James Burke, whose language in a telegram was so warm as to cause Shaw to demand the withdrawal of the message.

There were many claims of graft at this end, and also complaint that the business men and real estate dealers, who went to consult Mr. Shaw at Washington, did not get a fair hearing.

Secretary Shaw landed here this morning apparently full of fight, and he found fight. The United States courtrooms were thrown open by Judge Bunting for the public hearing, which did not proceed far until Secretary Shaw got into a very warm argument with President H. D. W. English, of the chamber of commerce, to whom he, practically, passed the line, shook his finger in his face, and told him that he did not represent the chamber of commerce, &c.

President English rushed from the courtroom in anger, and declared he would appeal to President Roosevelt regarding the action of Secretary Shaw. Mr. Shaw claimed that half the members of the chamber were in favor of the Fifteenth street site, and when Mr. Stevenson took exception to his remarks, a member of the chamber of commerce took issue with Stevenson, shook his fist in Stevenson's face, and wanted to whip him.

Tells People to Eliminate Graft.
It was the claim of Mr. Shaw that the chamber of commerce committee had not been appointed on the square, that it did not represent the members, &c. He took this same ground regarding the civic committee, and the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association, refusing to consider the protests of any of their committee, and almost precipitated a riot by saying: "You must eliminate graft, politics, and civic organization from this, and let us get down to business."

After again looking over the sites offered by Pittsburg, Mr. Shaw announced that he would give his decision in two weeks.

Visit ISLIP HOSPITAL.
Congressional Committee Starts Inspection in New York To-day.

New York, Nov. 26.—The House Committee on the Government Hospital for the Insane held an informal meeting to-day at the office of Congressman J. Van Vechten Olcott in this city. The only members of the committee present, besides Congressman Olcott, were Congressmen Smyser and Wallace.

To-morrow the committee will pay a visit to the hospital for the insane at Islip, Long Island. It is expected that Congressman Burchfield, of Pittsburg, will join his colleagues on this visit. It is very doubtful if Congressman Hay gets to New York at all.

Washington Man Tries to Die.
Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 26.—Frank Smith, a thachinist of Washington, D. C., was arrested to-night in a Pennsylvania avenue drug store, after he had attempted to drink the contents of a bottle of carbolic acid he had just purchased.

The drug clerk knocked the bottle from his hands, and called a policeman. Smith refused to state his reason for wishing to end his life.

Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.
The "Chicago Limited" will leave Washington 1:22 p. m. instead of 11 a. m., and arrive Chicago 9:45 a. m. Effective November 25.

Hot Water Radiators.
Minimum expense, maximum amount of heat. Demonstration, 509 9th st.

You get more than protection for your funds in banking dept. of Union Trust Co., 144 F. st. n.w. Interest on all accounts. Deposits subject to check at will.

These two questions, to some extent, at least, uncover the line of defense which has been so carefully concealed. It is quite apparent that the defense will urge that, as Gillette explained when he was first arrested, the boat toppled over accidentally, and the drowning was the cause of the girl's death. The injuries on the head and face of the girl will be explained by the supposition that she went down and came up beneath the upturned boat with force enough to cause the injuries to her face and head which the autopsy revealed.

Dr. E. H. Douglas, the second of the State's five medical witnesses, was still on the stand when this afternoon's session closed. With three more physicians and the coroner still to testify it appears likely that the State's case will not be in until the latter part of the week, and that it will be well into next week before the trial is ended.

DIPLOMAT SHOT BY WOMAN.
M. Merloux, Formerly French Cabinet Member, Attacked.

Paris, Nov. 26.—M. Merloux, formerly minister of finance, and now Minister to Chili, was shot this evening on the Boulevard des Italiens by Mme. Dallemagne, a former friend.

She fired four shots at him, only one of which, resulting in a slight wound in the thigh. The woman was arrested. She assaulted M. Merloux publicly last year.

You get more than protection for your funds in banking dept. of Union Trust Co., 144 F. st. n.w. Interest on all accounts. Deposits subject to check at will.

Hot Water Radiators.
Minimum expense, maximum amount of heat. Demonstration, 509 9th st.

You get more than protection for your funds in banking dept. of Union Trust Co., 144 F. st. n.w. Interest on all accounts. Deposits subject to check at will.

Hot Water Radiators.
Minimum expense, maximum amount of heat. Demonstration, 509 9th st.

You get more than protection for your funds in banking dept. of Union Trust Co., 144 F. st. n.w. Interest on all accounts. Deposits subject to check at will.

Hot Water Radiators.
Minimum expense, maximum amount of heat. Demonstration, 509 9th st.

You get more than protection for your funds in banking dept. of Union Trust Co., 144 F. st. n.w. Interest on all accounts. Deposits subject to check at will.

Hot Water Radiators.
Minimum expense, maximum amount of heat. Demonstration, 509 9th st.

You get more than protection for your funds in banking dept. of Union Trust Co., 144 F. st. n.w. Interest on all accounts. Deposits subject to check at will.

PATRICK REPRIEVE DENIED.

Higgins Has Not Agreed to Commute Lawyer's Sentence.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 26.—"The statement that I have promised or intimated to anybody that I will commute the sentence of Albert T. Patrick is absolutely and unqualifiedly false," said Gov. Higgins this afternoon. "I have made no promise on the subject, directly or indirectly, to any living man."

The governor added that, so far as he knew, the case of the alleged murderer of William Marsh Rice, the aged millionaire, is still in the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court of the United States.

PEARYS START SOUTHWARD.
New Crew Getting the Roosevelt
Ready to Bring Down.

Sydney, N. S., Nov. 26.—Commander and Mrs. Peary left here this afternoon bound for New York. The members of the staff will sail on the Roosevelt. Each, with some hundreds of dollars deposited safely in his box